ZIMMAN FOR SENATE AND BEST FOR HOUSE

C. S. Montgomery and John Power Want to Go to the Legislature Next Winter from Democrats.

Blood on the moon again!

A scrap is on in the Fontanelle club over the endorsement of a candidate for county attorney. Just after the filings for the primary election were begun J. C. Kinsier filed as a candidate for the attorneyship and his friends claimed he would be endorsed by the club. Saturday morning, however, John P. The macadamizing of Leavenworth street from Thirty-seventh street to Elmwood park was the principal subject up for discussion before the West Leavenworth Improvement club at its meeting last evening. The meeting was well attended interest was not disturbed by the weather man. Members of the county board, park board and several city counclimen were in attendance and participated

County Commissioner Ure declared himself as in favor of waiting until the next legislature gives the county commissioners authority to build sixteen-foot permanent roads before going ahead with the West Leavenworth project, and he adjuved the club members to take that course, but there was a well-defined sentiment among the members to take the twelve-foot road and widen the road later. According to the present law the county commissioners can build only twelve-foot permanent roads. The county commissioners, however, went on record as being disposed to do sil they can to put the road through County Commissioner Ure declared himdo all they can to put the road through at an early date. The club passed a motion to the effect that the club wants the twelve-foot road now, regardless of the possibility of getting a sixteen-foot road by waiting until the legislature

RELIGIOUS FANATICS IN JAIL Peculiar Antics Disturb the Residents Near Twenty-Pirst and Harney Streets.

In response to numerous telephone calls from residents of the neighborhood, the patrol wagon was dispatched to Twentyfirst and Harney streets early Saturday morning, where a man and a woman, evidently religious fanatics, were raising a great disturbance by shouting, singing and peculiar actions. They were taken to the station where they gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. George Crowe and said they had come from St. Paul, Neb., and are on their way to Iowa where the man said they had been called by God.

The woman passed into a sleeping trance which her husband explained as the power of God, but which Police Surgeon Elmore diagnosed as a form of hysteria brought on by the intense strain to which she had been wrought. A large crowd had been attracted by the antics of the pair and stood in a circle watching the ceremonies.

at the twentieth annual meeting of the National Fraternal congress held at Montreal. Canada, August 15, presents some very interesting statistics. The number of members admitted to the several fraternal beneficiary associations during the year 1965 was 575,006, as compared with 554,50 in 1907, and that the protection represented by such certificates was $530,035,507, as compared with $505,705,615. These figures show about 3 per cent less new members and about 1 per cent less protection for new members than during the previous year.

The net increase in membership for the year was 55,244—the smallest thus far recorded in the membership of the associations represented in this congress.

There were 452,161 lapses, or 122 per 1,000 members on the average membership for the year. This is substantially the same average of lapses as during the previous year. The were $6,501 deaths, showing a death rate of 8.75 per 1,000, as compared with $.55 for the previous year.

The benefits paid amount to $57,159,531.65, which is substantially the same amount as was paid during the previous year. In other words, the membership, mortalities, lapse rate, the benefits paid and the protection written during the year were practically the same as during the previous year.

These figures are not materially different from those of previous years, so that as a whole, while the increase in membership has been far less than in previous years, there has been no material change in other respects as regarding the general workings and experience of the associations represented at the congress.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, biadder, nasai passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrotllous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honests, the fall lite of the stone.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither—being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted PREE, by addressing him at Huffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are thny, sugar-coated granules. One listic "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two s mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

We have in ethyl alcohol an ideal fuel-colorless, limpid, of moderate boiling point, about 50 degrees below that of water, nonfreezing, burning without smoke, mixfore its flame extinguished by water, cleanly, drying off completely when spilled, not attacking rubber caskets or packings and noncorrosive for metal tanks and holders. The fact that the finme is bluish, or so-called nonluminous, means that the flame is almost devoid of free carbon particles, with their intense heat radiating power, a fact of considerable importance. When gasoline or heavy oils are burning, the flame, loaded with free carbon or soot, radiates heat to such a degree that it is not possible to approach near the confisgration, and combustible surroundings are readily fired by pure radiation of heat.

All saccharine or starchy growths are available. Saccharine wastes are now largely used in Cuba for alcohol production. At present it is said that the low grades of molasses can be delivered at American, coast cities at about 3 cents a gallon. About cities at about 3 cents a gallon. This alcohol will, in a properly organized engine, equal, volume for volume, gasoline now sold at a much higher price in producing power. Even in the immediate future, then, it is evident that alcohol has a large field of usefulness. The farmer need not depend on wood, coal or oil for his power. His agricultural wastes will furnish it. His fields need only receive the sunshine and be given sufficient water, and thence any crop yielding starch or sugar, however unmarketable otherwise, may be made the source of power, light and heat.

Growth Will Be Gradual.

The use of alcohol as a fuel and as a source of power will grow gradually. It would be idle to look for any sudden revolution in methods. There is modifying conditions to such an extent that our best present judgment may be in error, but assuming that increasing scarnity and cost of mineral fuels will gradually stimulate the selection and use of substitutes, it seems reasonable to predict that the one substitute which possesses the most desirable qualities is ethyl alcohol. amount that can be produced is practically unlimited.

A very important fact distinguishing alcohol production by agriculture from the production and shipment out of the land of food products, meat, etc., or even wood, is that in the former the land is not impoverished, as the mineral and nitrogenous matters can be returned to it, while in the food and wood carried away the richness of the land is passing away. gen and oxygen, all of which come from the air itself. Development of Efficiency. It is not unreasonable to expect that in large engines of the internal combustion type, when highly developed, we may attain efficiencies of 30 to 40 per cent. This means that the heat units potential in the fuel and liberated when it is burned with the oxygen of the air about one-third may be converted into available power. It may even be that future invention will carry to get some stone which was needed bethis proportion to about one-half. With fore brick work could go further, but the alcohol at a cost of 10 cents a gallon-a price even now realized in Cuba-the cost of the fuel per kilowat hour would be about 114 cents on an assumed efficiency of 33 per cent in the engine.

It is not to be imagined that where coal or oil is to be obtained at anything like the present costs there is at present any possibility of their replacement. Neither is it likely that water power, developed under favorable conditions, can ever have as a rival artificially produced fuel. But inasmuch as the fuel cost is only relatively small fraction of the total cost of operation of a great system of distribution, such as that of an electric lighting plant or railway, it is evident that, considering the great convenience and adaptability of the alcohol vapor internal combustion engine, a wide field may open for its application, as the cost of the fuel alone is a relatively unimportant item. Certain it is that for isolated small powers the alcohol motor can soon be used with lowing the recent legislation, there removing the onerous tax .- Cassier's Magazine.
